GIRL WIFE MAKES CHARGES AGAINST RICH HUSBAND IN COURT FIGHT

*Wm. A. Wahl Said To Have Been Cruel To Young Girl
Whom He Married When She Was a Confetti
Girl In Summer Park.*

A union waitress who worked at Riverview Park last summer will appear before Judge Goodnow tomorrow.

A rich man who spent money on her, married her and then broke with her, will be in court with private detectives to swear that the girl is wrong and the man is right.

The girl is Anna Wahl of 50 East Ohio street. She was in Judge Caverly's court yesterday. Her attorney, Edgar L. Masters, demanded a jury trial.

The man, William A. Wahl, who lives at the Morton Hotel, Michigan avenue and Eighteenth street, swore out a warrant charging her with disorderly conduct. He has had private detectives trailing the girl and they will take the witness stand.

The girl says it is a frame-up and her husband hired detectives, had her arrested and began to try to make a case against her only after she filed a bill for divorce April 9. The husband swore out the warrant one week after the divorce bill was filed.

The story goes back to last summer when Anna La Manierre walked
